Find new ideas for the kitchen, bathroom and outdoor room when you visit the HIA Sydney Home Show, in Sydney.

Sydney's premiere Home Show returns this May to the Sydney Exhibition Centre, Darling Harbour from Thursday 13 to Sunday 16 May.

For visitors planning a renovation project, seeking the right information is vital to staying on task and budget. 'Ask an Expert' is a dedicated free consultation service at the Home Show. Bring your plans and get expert renovation advice and ideas from painters, builders, landscapers and kitchens and bathrooms designers.

A new major feature at this shows show includes the 'HIA BuildGreen Expo'. Renovating and building sustainably are vital ways everyone can make a real contribution to the environment and save money. Benefits include lower energy and water bills, a warmer house in winter, a cooler house in summer, increased resource efficiency, a healthier home, and less waste going to landfill. The area offers you the latest products, advice and solutions to convert an existing home or build a new "green" home.

The 'Design Precinct' takes on a new theme in 2010, welcoming Luxury Home Design as a key partner. Presenting Sydney's leading interior designers, it showcases cosmopolitan life-size rooms capturing emerging international trends. See the latest from Tokyo, Copenhagen and London.

This year's line up includes names such as Liquid Colour, Bromley & Tate Interiors, Orson & Blake, Baxter Creative and Habitat Living.

There shall also be dedicated workshops for FREE Colour Consultations by The School of Colour & Design. Take part in the 2 hour sessions.
